

Dialogue: [episode 9]

Nana: Hi, Cooper!

Cooper: Hey, how's everything?

Nana: Thanks for being so supportive.

Cooper: I just did what I should have done.

Nana: Hey, you okay? You look like something is bothering you. Are you --?

Cooper: Oh, I'm okay. Nothing important.

Nana: Hey, if you don't feel well, we can always go to the bookstore some other day.

Cooper: I'm okay, really I am. No problem at all. The bookstore is real close. How can there be a problem with that?

Nana: I haven't studied for a month. I feel like I'm reading my books for the first time all over again.

Cooper: You'll catch up soon. It's got to be a big relief to see your family members are safe and sound.

Nana: The book you mentioned has a CD inside. That should really help me with my Chinese.

Cooper: You're smart and diligent too. How can you miss?

Nana: Well, I'm worried since having good Chinese is really important to get into your department.

Cooper: Don't worry. If you need help, just let me know.

Nana: Maybe I should talk to the faculty members in your department?

Cooper: I'll check with the secretary.

Nana: Or, maybe I should talk to the chair of the department?

Cooper: You have a point. It makes things easier if you get first-hand information.

I'll check that out for you.

Nana: I'll be less anxious if I can get all the information on applying to the department.

Cooper: I'll get back to you on it. And I'll get some materials on how to prepare for the exam, too.

Nana: Great!

Cooper: I'll keep you posted.

Nana: Thanks a bunch!!
